

curriculum vitae

Personal:

Name: Martin Andreas SCHMID
Academic degree: Ass. Prof. Mag. phil. Dr. phil.
Date and place of birth: 16 September 1974; Eisenstadt/Burgenland
Nationality: Austria

Address: Center for Environmental History, Institute of Social Ecology
Institute for Science Communication and Higher Education Research
IFF - Faculty for Interdisciplinary Studies (Klagenfurt – Graz - Vienna)
University of Klagenfurt
Schottenfeldgasse 29, 1070 Vienna, Austria phone: +43 (0)1 5224000-506
fax: +43 (0) 1 5224000-577 email: martin.schmid@uni-klu.ac.at Websites: umweltgeschichte.uni-klu.ac.at www.uni-klu.ac.at/socec

www.uni-klu.ac.at/wiho

Education and Academic Qualification:

Since October 2007: Habilitation project “Towards an Environmental History of the Danube”

2007: PhD in environmental history from the University of Vienna, thesis: “Environmental History in a Sustainable Society” [“Umweltgeschichte in einer vorsorgenden Gesellschaft”]

2002: graduation: Master of philosophy (MA) in history from the University of Vienna. Masters thesis: “History as a Scientific Culture” [“Zur Wissenschaftskultur der Geschichtswissenschaft”]

1996-1998: advanced study course „Culture und Environment“ at the University of Vienna. Thesis: “Archaeology. A Conceptual History between Nature and Culture”

1992-2001: graduate studies in history, medieval archaeology, art history and social history at the University of Vienna

1992: high school graduation (Matura) at the Bundesgymnasium Eisenstadt

Professional Positions:

- Since January 2010: head of the Center for Environmental History in Vienna
- Since June 2009: leader of the iff-programme on interdisciplinary communication (“Studium Integrale”)
- Since October 2007: assistant professor for environmental history and interdisciplinary communication at the Faculty for Interdisciplinary Studies (IFF), Alpen-Adria-University Klagenfurt, Vienna, Austria
- October 2003: founding member of the Center for Environmental History [ZUG-Zentrum für Umweltgeschichte] at the IFF in Vienna
- Since 2001: lecturer at the universities of Vienna and Klagenfurt, Austria
- Since 2001: member of the IFF teaching team on interdisciplinarity (“Studium Integrale”)
- 1999-2007: freelance researcher and research fellow at the departments “Didactics of Science” and “Studium Integrale – Environmental History” at the Faculty for Interdisciplinary Studies (IFF) in Vienna
- 1992-2000: research assistant and technician at numerous archaeological excavations

Main Research Areas:

environmental history, early modern history, environmental history of riverine landscapes, long term development of society-nature interactions, colonization of nature and societal power relations, teaching interdisciplinary communications, scientific cultures and the role of academics in society

Publications and Presentations:

About 20 (peer reviewed) journal articles and book chapters; 5 monographs and theses; more than 50 selected and invited lectures and (poster-) presentations at conferences and workshops in Austria, Brazil, Denmark, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Republic of Moldova, Spain, Switzerland, The Netherlands, UK and USA

For details see: <https://campus.uni-klu.ac.at/org/visitenkarte?personalnr=3415>

Vienna, January 2010