

Hermann Hellwagner becomes IEEE Senior Member February 2012

Hermann Hellwagner has been elevated to the grade of Senior Member in the IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers), one of the world's largest professional associations for the advancement of technology. About 8% of all 365,000 members hold this grade, which requires significant professional maturity and achievements.

