Contents

Foreword by Meredith Minkler

List of Contributors

Introduction - Setting the scene, Jo Hockley, Katherine Froggatt, Katharina Heimerl

Section 1 Groundings

1 Action research: An overview, Jo Hockley, Katherine Froggatt, Katharina Heimerl

2 Critical theory and participatory research, Jo Hockley

3 Organisation and health system change through participatory research, Katharina Heimerl, Klaus Wegleitner

4 Community capacity development in participatory action research, Mary Lou Kelley, Margaret McKee

5 First, second and third person inquiry, Geralyn Hynes

6 Appreciative inquiry, Caroline Nicholson, Julie Barnes

Section 2 Exemplars

7 Community palliative care in Switzerland: From assessment to action, Steffen Eychmüller, Franzisca Domeisen

8 Addressing bereavement support involving people with intellectual disability in England, Sue Read

9 Palliative interventions and acute respiratory care in Ireland, Patricia White, Marie Lynch

10 Improving pain management in Canadian long term care homes, Sharon Kaasaleinen

Section 3 Issues

11 Power relations: Enhancing the delivery of a palliative approach in an aged care setting, Sharon Andrews, Fran McInery, Andrew Robinson

12 Issues of diversity: participatory action research with indigenous peoples, Kevin Brazil

13 Gender perspectives in Austrian participatory research in palliative care for older people, Elisabeth Reitinger, Erich Lehner

14 Demonstrating quality and rigour in action research: peer education on end of life issues, Katherine Froggatt

15 Addressing sustainability: a hospital-based action research study, Geralyn Hynes

16 Challenges for collaboration, Katherine Froggatt, Jo Hockley, Katharina Heimerl